Church News

All the churches were well attended Sunday.

After reading the morning services, Rector C. M. Gray did not deliver any sermon but left to meet his Sunday appointment at Orange Lake. Rev. J. G. Law being ill, his pulpit was vacant, and many of his congregation divided up with other churches.

Rev. W. J. Williams of the Baptist church preached a splen-W. L. Braiden of Pennsylvania | WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Drug- did sermon in the morning on "Grieving the Holy Spirit." He closest attention.

Rev. C. A. Sanders, presiding elder of this district, held forth at the Methodist church and proclaimed two edifying sermons.

At the interdenominational tent Hall's Family Pills are the three services were held. In the afternoon Rev. David Phillips gave his personal experience in sanctification, a doctrine Wesley, Bishop Simpson and other noted Methodist divines laid the greatest stress on. The speaker said that with him it was sanctification, "fodder or no fodder," as he couldn't help it, and without it no power could come for effective work for the Master.
